PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION:

This house is a three part, two story, Georgian style farmhouse. The original section is a rectangular shaped, four bay, white stucco over stone structure with a full length, shed roofed front porch. An early addition, attached to the rear of the structure, is also a two story, stucco over stone structure. The resulting cross-axial roof has asphalt shingles. Three stucco-clad, flush chimneys are found at both ends of the core building, and on the north end of the addition. Windows are 1x1 and are not original; larger frames are found on the first floor. In typical Georgian style fashion, a fanlight is located over the main door. Sidelights flank the door, which is paneled. Wooden shutters flank the windows on the front facade.

The house also contains a two story, stucco clad addition that occupies the former void of the ell. The house also contains a vinyl clad, one story, shed roof, addition on the rear (northeast) corner of the house. The overall length of the house is approximately 40' x 50'.

Classification: Class II. The house is in excellent shape. Although now part of a development, there is adequate land to maintain its historic setting.

Arthur and Kay Rush House — owned by Peter Strassburger

This has undoubtedly been a most popular house and location. Many families have lived in it and owned it, and many more would like to buy it! One reason for its popularity would be that it is the first real farm house west of the village. Secondly, it is ideally located back from the road and has a stream nearby. Thirdly, it is well-designed and built and has weathered some adversity.

In late 1975, after having been vandalized and then completely gutted by fire, the Arthur Rush's, Jr. and Sr., with the permission of Mr. Strassburger undertook to restore the dwelling. Today the Rush's are enjoying the spaciousness of the large farm kitchen and the atmosphere of the main part of the house with its old woodwork and refinished floors. It has been decorated in a colonial motif. The crowning feature is the unusual masonry of the entrance surrounding the front door. But best of all, the workmen found the date-stone while renovating — 1801!

The record of deeds is herewith presented-going backwards:

- 1939 — Strassburger purchase — Several tennant farmers and their families occupied it
- 1927 — Dr. John Nevergole
- 1926 — Charles and Elizabeth MacMullan
- 1920 — Paul Zenone
- 1920 — George and Helen Woodward
- 1920 — Joseph Termine (agent)
- 1916 — Richard Roynan
- 1905 — William Knoll sold to Charles Heimsbaugh (last of the Yost farm managers)
- 1903 — John Knoll, the father willed a great area of land to William (Log-cabin dweller on Yost Rd.), George and Thomas
